1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem of the existence of a solution of the system of equations

(1)  $\frac{dx}{dt} = f(x, y, z), \frac{dy}{dt} = g(x, y, z), \frac{dz}{dt} = h(x, y, z)$ where  $f, g, h$  are continuous functions of  $x, y, z$  in a certain region  $R$  of the space  $(x, y, z)$ .

It is well known that if the functions  $f, g, h$  are continuous in  $R$  and if the initial conditions are satisfied, then there exists a unique solution of the system (1) in a certain neighborhood of the point  $(x_0, y_0, z_0)$ .

(2)  $x(0) = x_0, y(0) = y_0, z(0) = z_0$

The second part of the paper is devoted to a study of the properties of the solution of the system (1) in the case when the functions  $f, g, h$  are not continuous in  $R$ .

It is shown that in this case the solution of the system (1) may not exist or may not be unique.

The third part of the paper is devoted to a study of the properties of the solution of the system (1) in the case when the functions  $f, g, h$  are not continuous in  $R$  and the initial conditions (2) are not satisfied.
